Hello, it's you we're looking for.

We're Scouts and everyone's welcome here - all genders, races and backgrounds. We give over 400,000 4–25-year-olds the skills they need for school, college, university, the job interview: the skills they need for life.

Right across the UK, we're helping young people gain skills for life and find their place in the world. We help them speak up, play their part and shine bright. Scouts is the place to be yourself and find yourself.

These are young people who are not afraid to stand up for what they believe in, to do the right thing and think of others before themselves.

At a time when communities sometimes feel divided, Scouts brings people together. We're building stronger communities and contributing to a stronger society. All this is made possible by the generosity of our adult volunteers.

Now's a challenging time for us all, but Scouts has never been more important - giving young people purpose, hope, and a place to belong. With the launch of Squirrels for 4–6-year-olds, and opening more units in even more areas of deprivation, we're making more of a difference than ever.

Visit the Scouts online here for more on our values and #SkillsforLife strategy.

You'll be helping change young people's lives. But what else is there for you?

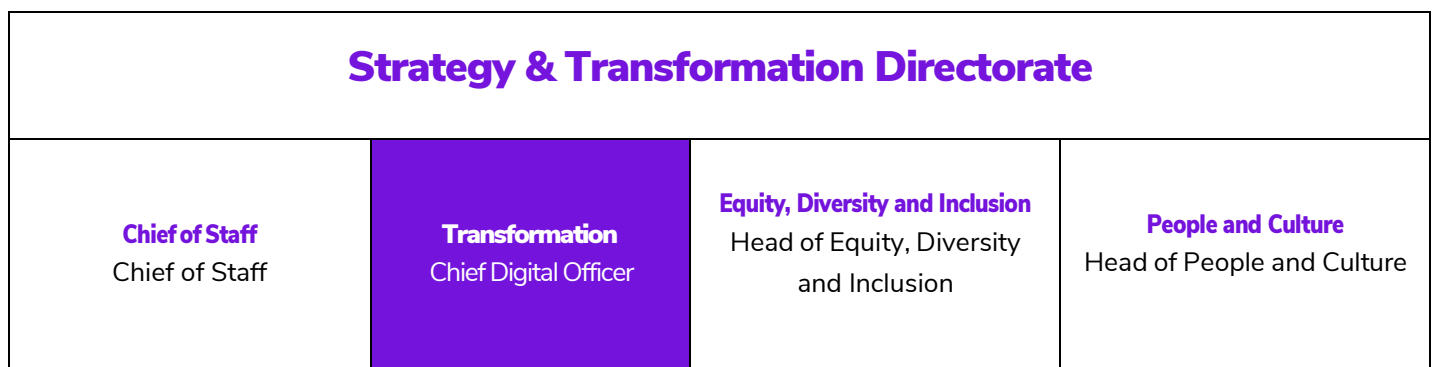

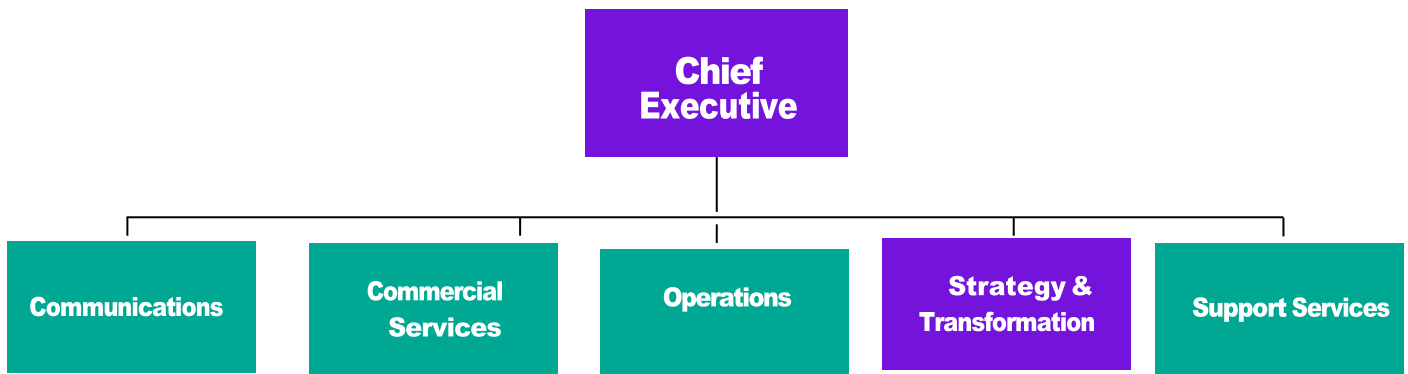

- Work in a way that suits you, your role and your department
- Be proud to say you're part of a team with Investors in People \(Gold\)
- Plenty of opportunity for learning and development
- 28 days holiday a year, plus bank holidays rising to 32 days after two years (and we don't insist you go camping)
- Four extra days to look after your family when they need you
- Three extra days over Christmas (that's our gift to you)
- When you're at the office, you'll be surrounded by 100 acres of beautiful woodland (that means lovely lunchtime walks)
- Be part of a team that believes having fun's important too, with team days, charity days and our new interactive Scout-themed collaboration hub (think tents!) creating a great informal environment for meeting and working

How we're structured

Our UK headquarters is based at Gilwell Park, Chingford, London, and is divided into five directorates:

The Team structure (Data and Insights as part of Transformation)

We're the Transformation Team.

We're doing great things, but you can help us do better.

The Head of Data & Insights role is a vital role to help us deliver our organisation's Skills for Life Strategy, and to help us bring about digital transformation across The Scouts. We'd love to hear from you!

The Scouts are in the middle of an exciting Digital Transformation. By 2025, our digital strategy will make volunteering for Scouts easier. It'll help volunteers carry out their roles in a more enjoyable way, allowing them to focus on the things that matter most, from delivering great programmes to running groups and supporting others. All this will empower our volunteers and staff from every background to create more opportunities for more young people to gain skills for life, helping deliver our strategy. We'll embed our digital principles into everything we do.

The Head of Data and Insights will help us to transform Scouts' relationship with data and insights and drive change. You don't need to be an expert in everything but we're looking for an energetic leader who can build relationships and bring strategic oversight to our data management, analysis, insights and research activity. You will have oversight over the full data management and insights cycle, producing sophisticated and impactful information to influence policy, strategy and business plans.

As the Head of Data & Insights, you will not only lead a multi-discipline team, but take a lead in delivering on the roadmap and interact with various stakeholders such as Volunteers, Board Members and the leadership team.

This role will focus on delivering our roadmap and priorities for the coming year, ensuring that we have the right resources and capability to deliver. You will also help to feed into our strategic thinking as we develop our next strategy and new work programmes, and to consider what role data and insights will play in our organisation in future.

We look forward to hearing your fresh ideas and to help us deliver on our plans.

We're really proud of what our team have already achieved but we've got a lot more to do. We are a team who are confident in our areas of expertise but also open to learning, creative in practice, and always caring and supportive in our approach. What's expected?

The Head of Data and Insights is a unique opportunity to transform Scouts' relationship with data and insights and to further develop the respected profile of data management and insights practice across the organisation.

The role will lead the strategic direction for data, UX and insights at the Scouts and oversee the delivery of key projects in which these disciplines are involved. As part of our wider digital transformation work, the Head of Data and Insights will help drive the transformation to a evidence-driven culture, working closely with colleagues across the organisation.

As the Head of Data & Insights, you are a capable and experienced professional who is comfortable working in complex environments, across a variety of projects and activities simultaneously. You will be someone who firmly believes in the importance of organisational change driven by insights and evidence. You are skilled at generating enthusiasm to make change happen and championing the role of data and insights in our work. You're expert at communicating complexity in simple ways and in building rapport with key stakeholders in order to help progress your work.

You will oversee the team to deliver the Data & insights roadmap, agreeing priorities and resources with stakeholders as required. You will oversee delivery of new platforms and processes as required to meet objectives, whilst considering costs and practical challenges. You will continue to improve all aspects of service delivery and internal efficiency. This role will help us to secure robust evidence on our impact with young people which will provide essential insights to help us further develop our strategy and practice.

This is a rare chance to bring your skills, experience, and passion for high quality data and insights services to a growing and prestigious organisation that serves half a million young people and volunteers. The digital transformation you help to deliver will support nearly half a million young people every week as they gain skills for life through Scouts.

Key accountabilities

- Lead the implementation of the overall data and insights vision and strategy, gaining buy-in, support and investment to evolve our culture and embed a more evidence-centric mindset.
- Lead delivery of the data and insights roadmap, ensuring appropriate management of resources to meet priorities as agreed with key stakeholders.
- Provide expertise and oversight in the design of new processes, systems, and approaches
- Champion and implement the use of tools or services which help to drive behavioural change to become more evidence-centric.
- Identify and address gaps in data and insights understanding and capability across the organisation.
- Lead and develop a diverse team of data and insights specialists.
- Oversee best-practice in how we secure robust evidence on our impact on young people, including design and oversight of appropriate research activities.
- Drive and oversee provision of master data management and data platform initiatives.
- Provide assurance for the organisation's Information Governance and Research and Insights procedures.
- Work with the leadership team, senior volunteers and stakeholders to evolve the culture to become more data-led, evidence-based, including presenting to boards, committees, and wider Scouts meetings where required.
- Actively contribute to the overall management of the Transformation team and the delivery of our Digital Transformation Strategy.
- Establish and lead matrix teams, groups, and committees where appropriate.
- Other duties as reasonably requested by the Chief Digital Officer, including deputising if required.
